SWAYNE BENTHAL BADLY CUT

Altercation Ending in Injury Begun
Over Loan of Cotton.

Trouble over sale of a load of cotton complicated Monday morning in an argument in which Swayne Benthal and John Long were principals and in which Benthal received a severe cut on the upper part of his arm. Long is a tenant on land which Benthal had rented about two and a half miles southeast of town.

The altercation occurred in front of the store of Roger Bros. According to reports, the best cause was a difference as to what disposed was to be made of a load of cotton which Long and for some time had been part of a cash deal part on account of Benthal wanting to have the cotton sold on Long's grocery account but which he claims he should. A fight ensued in which Benthal received the cut just below the right shoulder, almost entirely severing the muscle in the upper part of the right arm.

He was immediately brought to the office of Dr. J. M. Hildner, where his wound was dressed, several stitches being taken to close the cut. It is rumored that owing to the almost complete severance of the muscle, the use of his right arm will be lost.

Long was arrested Monday evening and appeared in Judge Stahr's court Tuesday morning where he waived examining trial, and was bound over to the grand jury. He was released after making bond, which was placed at $500.

O. C. HENRY FOR CO. COURT CLERK

Formally Announces for Re-election.
A Daring Man.

It is with a great deal of personal pleasure, that we formally announce in this, the first issue of the new year our friend, O. C. Henry, as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Court Clerk of Fulton County, subject to the action of the Democratic voters on the first Saturday in August (the 6th).

His announcement will occasion a great deal of pleasure to his many friends throughout the whole county, who have been soliciting him to make his entry in the race as soon as practicable. Four years ago he was the successful candidate in a large field of good men, and his election at that time was a distinct triumph. His popularity throughout the whole county, and with all classes of people, has not diminished. In fact, he is stronger now than he was then. So much so, that there is little likelihood of any very strong opposition.

The duties of the office, which are many and varied, and require a close attention to details, have been capably looked after by Mr. Henry and his estimable wife, who have been attentive to the office—always one of them on duty, so that any who called were sure to be courteously received and their business attended to in a competent manner.

In this season he will present his claims personally to the voters of the county, and from his well known campaigning qualities we are sure that he will be well received. If there is a man more deserving and one who will do more to accommodate a friend, we don't know him.

ILLEGAL BOOZE IS PLENTIFUL

Governor Morrow Declares Illegal Sale
in Kentucky Worst Ever.

Illegal manufacture and sale of whiskey in Kentucky is worse than at any time in the history of the state, Gov. Edwin P. Morrow declared in an address before a joint session of the Kentucky Circuit Judge's Association and the Kentucky Commonwealth Attorneys' Association at Louisville.

Governor Morrow, who spoke on "A Challenge of Law and Order in Kentucky Concerning the Sale and Distribution of Whisky," classed illicit distilling and distribution of liquors as one of the most serious problems confronting the state, and urged judges and attorneys to do all in their power to stamp out the evil.

He said that the use of intoxicants by minors was increasing in an alarming proportion. He said it was a question of law and order which has reached the stage where it must be decided whether the state will enforce the law or side with the illicit makers of whisky. He said that religious meetings were being broken up, schools disturbed and private meetings interrupted by users of liquor.

Governor Morrow announced he would do all in his power to enforce prohibition and called upon the judges and attorneys for co-operation. He said he would not show clemency to any violators of the liquor laws.

Little Ross Cheahire Jr., and Virginia Cheahire of Atlanta, Ga., returned home Sunday, after spending the Christmas holidays with D. B. Wilson and wife. Mr. Wilson accompanied them home.

Fred Stokes and wife of Water Valley spent Xmas with her parents, H. O. Brooks and family.

FINED $15.

Spencer Bradford, of Bonham, was tried in Judge Stahr's court last week charged with willfully neglecting to send his children to school. He was fined $15 and a fine of $15 was assessed against Mary Barbour, the county treasurer, who, although the authorities had been quite lenient in dealing with these cases for the past few months, in the future the violator for their work in the future the violator be prosecuted, and parents are urged to keep their children in school.

PAY FOR YOUR STAMPS.

Charles E. J. Stahr of the Hickman County and Welfare League has requested that all who received the Cross stamps for Christmas use pay for them at once. These stamps were sent through the mail to a great many people, requesting that they either return the stamps or send the money to the league in payment for them. He self-addressed envelopes. Many of those who received these stamps have neither returned the stamps nor sent the money for them and Judge Stahr asks that the money be sent at once so that the committee will not have to go to the added expense and trouble of calling your attention to this by letter again.

TIME EXTENDED 10 DAYS.

The time for purchasing automobile license tags has been extended by Governor Morrow for ten days, giving owners of cars, trucks, etc. until Saturday night, Jan. 9, in which to secure their licenses. After this time, an affidavit will have to be made, stating the reason on the license tag, was not purchased, after which the cases of delinquents will be handled by the county authorities. The fine for failing to secure these tags is not less than $10 nor more than $100.

Clarence Henry, county court clerk, tells us that the total number of licenses sold in the county Saturday, Friday and Saturday was 575, 60 of which were trucks, five chauffeurs and ten dealer licenses, amounting to $4,462.20. According to Mr. Henry, this is only about one-third of the number of automobiles in the county.

Miss Belle Mercer of Jackson, Tenn., spent the Xmas holidays with Mrs. Alice Amberg and family.

Miss Elizabeth Ellison will return today to Chatham, Va., where she is attending school after spending the holidays with her family.

SMALL FIRE TUESDAY.

Grass burning in the yard of the residence of Mrs. Alexander, came near setting fire to the fence and garage. The fire alarm was turned in and the fire truck was ready to go, when the fire was extinguished. No serious damage resulted.

R. E. Johnson, wife and baby spent the weekend with her brother, Harvey Trice, and family of Jackson, Tenn.

Erle Johnson, wife and son spent a few days last week with relatives at Nashville and Christian, Tenn.

Miss Nellie Rogers spent a few days last week with Frank Fisher and wife of Fulton.

MASONS HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET

Local Lodge Celebrates St. John's Day,
With Big Spread.

As has been the custom for many years, Hickman Lodge No. 761, F. & A. M., celebrated St. John's Day on Monday, December 27 in a proper and fitting manner.

This most recent celebration was a large affair viewed from any and all angles, humorously, socially or gastronomically. The banquet was served in the commodious LaCade Hotel dining room Monday night, where and when Mine Host J. O. West did his best to qualify as a thirty-second overhauler. It is estimated that over a hundred of the spread. The menu consisted of a great variety of choice dishes and all the comforts, auxiliary and adjuncts appertaining thereto. It is an occasion that will long be remembered, for no one wants to forget it. Previous to the banquet the lodge held its regular session, conducted by a degree and elected and installed a new set of officers. All of which served to whet the appetites of those present to a razor edge. At a little after 9 they repaired to the LaCade.

The following are the officers for the ensuing year:

W. M.—C. B. Travis.
S. W.—W. J. McMurry.
J. W.—S. D. Stenbridge.
S. D.—W. C. Reed.
J. D.—E. Dobson.
Stewards—W. F. Montgomery and Joe Polhamus.
Tyler—C. A. Johnson.
Treasurer—Dr. J. M. Hubbard.
Secretary—Rev. W. F. Renneberg.
At the conclusion of the feast speeches were heard from Judge E. J. Stahr, getting master; C. B. Travis, who succeeds to that office; W. J. McMurry, Rev. W. F. Renneberg, Captain H. E. Cowgill, Sr., the oldest person delivered a short but a stirring address regarding the position of toastmaster befittingly.

W. L. HAMPTON FOR CIRCUIT CLERK

Announces This Week for Re-election to That Office.

In our column of announcements this week we carry the name of W. L. Hampton, our present circuit court clerk, who presents himself to the voters of Fulton county as a candidate for re-election to that office, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 6, 1932.

Mr. Hampton has held this office for the past term of six years, and a more courteous and efficient officer could not be found. He has a broad acquaintance throughout the county and a wide circle of friends, and his record during the past six years is unsurpassed. Nothing but praise has been heard of the splendid way in which he has handled the work of his office.

Mr. Hampton is a man of excellent character and good judgment, is unassuming, but strictly attentive to the business of the office, giving to all his work a thoroughness which makes him a very competent official.

He will run upon his record as a servant of the people of the county and takes this occasion to thank the public for the favors they have shown him while an officer of the county. It will be his purpose to see the voters between now and the August primary and discuss with them his claims for their support.

The Courier bespeaks for him your consideration in his race for re-election to this important office, and we feel that he will deserve any favors you may give him.

WEST HICKMAN P. E. A. MEETS.

The West Hickman Parent-Teachers Association met Dec. 17, 1931. To say that we had an interesting meeting "does not express it." Every member seemed so anxious to have a part in every undertaking. Mrs. Earl Smith was made president.

Since this little band of earnest parents have begun this work, through their efforts, electric lights have been installed in the West Hickman building. On Dec. 23, the children gave an interesting little program to an appreciative audience and realized the sum of $18.00.

These good people have served well to the children almost every day since their organization. The greatest missionary field on earth is found in the heart and life of a child, so we are really doing things, not waiting for an opportunity to do great things but with willing hands and cheerful hearts we are really doing the little things.

Come and join us we need you.

We meet again Jan. 17. Don't miss the meeting.

Misses Annie Russell Moore, Lucile Hendrix and Virginia Hendrix returned to school at Lexington Monday, after spending the holidays with their parents.

Thos. Rogers spent a few days with J. W. Rogers.

CALOMEL

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury—quicksilver; and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.

A YEAR OF SPLENDID ACHIEVEMENT BY THE NATIONAL FARM BUREAU

The Federation Has Made Itself Agriculture's Powerful National Voice.

(By Courtesy of the Country Gentleman through the Farm Bureau.)

One million five hundred thousand farmers in particular and some six million farmers in general will have their eyes focused on Indianapolis next week. Many of the remaining nine million Americans will turn their eyes in the same direction. For in that town the directors, delegates and executive committee will assemble for the annual and annual meeting of this the largest and most powerful of all farm organizations ever set in motion in this land.

When delegates from more than thirty states met at Chicago a year ago, adopted a tentative form of organization and elected Jim H. Wood as their farmer, as temporary president, the federal union faced the world an unknown factor. The organization, its aims and purposes, were unknown, misunderstood or underestimated.

Today it is known from one end of the country to the other. Its officers are put on the front pages of the big city newspapers when they come to town and are invited to address the most influential gatherings in the land. Legislators, congressmen, governors, other high in office, listen to the Farm Bureau with respect, and some of them, if the truth were known, with fear. The bureau has taken its place as a great national farm voice.

There is a certain club in Washington which, from time to time, before the men are invited to address. No reporters being present, the speakers are at liberty to talk quite freely and discuss matters of official confidential nature.

Fifteen minutes after one of these meetings had closed, Mr. Silver, Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, was called on the telephone by a man who had a sympathetic interest in the welfare of the livestock farmers of the country. He had just come from the club meeting, he said, and he told Mr. Silver that a certain government official in addressing the club had said that the Shipping Board was planning to break the high price of meat in this country by equipping a line of ships with refrigerator space, having cheap meat from Argentina and Australia and throwing it on the markets of the United States.

Early next morning Mr. Silver was at the office of the Shipping Board. From his description of what followed, he must have made a note, even to compare with the volume of farmer interest which he represents. Unable to secure audience with the official he had come to see, he served verbal notice on a subordinate that he would send out a statement to the farmers of the nation regarding the remarks alleged to have been made at the meeting the previous night unless the Shipping Board cared to make an official statement on the matter.

Organized Business Listens.

Shortly afterward a statement appeared declaring that the Shipping Board did not have any plans nor did it contemplate any for equipping ships to bring meat into the country. Thus was the matter cleared up promptly, because the Farm Bureau Federation had its ear to the ground in Washington and had the voice of a million and a half farmers with which to back up its request for a quick hearing.

In the past year it has been the task of J. R. Howard, president of the federation, to speak for the farmers of America in a large way to business, to organized labor and to industry. From comparatively obscurity as an Iowa farmer, Howard has been carried forward in his position as Farm Bureau executive to the place where he has become a national figure. For example, he addressed the United States Chamber of Commerce at its summer meeting. Thus organized business of America listened to the organized farmers.

Howard, Silver and other officials of the federation have been quoted in the greatest daily newspapers in the land. Influential magazines have come to listen to them for facts or for opinions. Both national political parties have sought their disinterested advice. Those men have done much in one year's time to elevate agriculture as a whole to a higher plane, to help it take its due place as our greatest national industry. This is the biggest single achievement of the American Farm Bureau Federation. There are, however, other and more immediate results that bear telling.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has represented the American farmer in national affairs in a way that he has never been represented before. Speaking as a single voice for the more than a million members, compelled attention to the problems of the farmer—the big, fundamental problems that concern agriculture and the nation as a whole.

Breaking a Freight Deadlock.

For instance, when the bureau learned that big steel boats on the Great Lakes were making trips without full loads of freight, their cargoes mainly boxes and packages that could be handled easily, the United States Shipping Board was asked why these vessels were not hauling wheat. There was a great freight congestion and there was something that might relieve the shortage and help the farmers of the Middle West who wanted their wheat and hogs hauled to market.

The boats had no bulkheads for handling grain, and it would take $5000 a boat to build them in, said the board. Three days of argument were necessary before the board agreed to equip two ships for handling grain. The cost proved to be but $3000 each. The thing worked. Later all thirty-six steel ships on the lakes under control of the board were equipped at a cost of $1800 apiece. One of these ships is able to bring down the equivalent of two trainloads of wheat at a time, so many are now released to other freight.

Shortly after this Mr. Silver sat in the lobby of a hotel in Washington telling the story to a crowd. A man, overhanging him, asked:

"Why don't you do something about the wooden boats?"

"Why do you suppose the board has been doing up in the docks at Detroit out of commission, because, under a rate granted the board and made possible by the efforts of the Farm Bureau, the board has been permitted to build boats from Chicago to Buffalo, the U. S. coast, and a large tonnage from Buffalo to New York City. Thus they are all wheat ships. From the lakes to the railroads for four years, were the war period with so many depending upon transportation, these boats have remained idle. To me, they are seen fit to do anything."

Amused, Silver went to the Shipping Board and found that this was true. Some part to carry 125,000 bushels of wheat at one trip had been idle for four years. The board said they were short of money. The Farm Bureau had found three-quarters of it. The Illinois Agricultural Association found most of the other 25,000, but that is another story.

With a governor from a Middle Western state who had heard of the situation and wanted to help, the Farm Bureau men went to see certain influential officials in Washington to demand that something be done to change the rates, put these boats to work hauling wheat and release railway cars to haul other farm products from the Middle West. The railroads snarled at the visitors. They said it was impossible to do anything.

"Now here, Mr. Silver quotes himself: 'The new railway men know that the farmer needs the American Farm Bureau Federation in a referendum, voted almost unanimously against government ownership of railroads.' But do you think for a minute that if I went to them with the story of what you men have permitted to be done in wartime they would not re-evaluate their action in short order? The farmers right now are with you. Here's a chance for you to do something for them. You either do it or the Farm Bureau will tell the farmers of America that you have refused, and why."

Whereupon these railway executives looked at each other again, but with a different sort of smile on their faces. The Farm Bureau men left.

Two days later for the first time in history the railroads, of their own volition, sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission and asked that rates be set on the basis of permitting a competitive water rate. The commission not only did this but even gave the least differential rate and now the wooden boats are back in commission on the lakes and, wherever required are hauling grain.

Congress Takes Heed.

How different this is from the story told some years ago when old Commodore Vanderbilt, one of the same question of competing freight lines between Chicago and New York in reply to reporters, was quoted as saying, "The public be damned!"

And the full increase in freight and passenger rates asked by the railroads was allowed. The rate would have been far greater than even the $1,500,000,000 granted and the American farmer would have shouldered a heavier burden than he now carries of the advanced cost of transportation. The American Farm Bureau Federation, however, appropriated funds to investigate the claims of the railroads and retained Clifford Thorne, the well-known attorney to represent it at the hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Thorne was the only one who argued that the increase asked was excessive. In rendering his decision the commission fixed the box value of the railroads at $1,100,000,000 less than the amount on which the railroads executives asked that the new rates be based. This resulted in a big saving to farmers as well as to other shippers, for which the federation, so ably represented at the hearings, can fairly claim great credit.

Another outstanding achievement was the securing of credits for farmers. Specifically the federation takes credit for persuading the Federal Reserve Board to direct banks to accept warehouse receipts for wool or wheat as collateral on loans. Also following its presentation of facts, the board deposited $300,000,000 in Middle Western banks to finance the moving of the grain crop.

More fundamentally, the federation has made a study of the whole matter of farm credits and has secured the approval of the Federal Reserve Board and of the Secretary of the Treasury to the principle that the farmer is entitled to credit to finance his crops during the year of production and over a period of one year of consumption of that crop so financed. A bill has been prepared and approved that will be submitted to Congress this winter, classifying farm crops and requiring banks to accept farm crops as collateral.

Among other things claimed as accomplishments in a national way by the Farm Bureau has been the securing of an appropriation of half a million dollars to fight the corn borer and for a quarantine against this pest. It prevented certain interests from securing title to valuable cotton lands in Arizona.

Last spring, when Congress was in session, it cut the proposed appropriations for county-agent work to less than $400 an agent. Had this provision gone through the entire county-agent

TO YOU whose friendly support and patronage during the past year have contributed so greatly to our success, we extend our cordial and appreciative thanks. We take this opportunity to express the hope that the New Year will bring great happiness and prosperity to you; that the friendly relations and good will existing between us may continue; and that we may be permitted to serve you in many helpful ways throughout the year to come.

HE MAY RUN FOR CIRCUIT JUDGESHIP

Solicitations Have Come to Adams From Many Sources.

It is probable that Bardwell will furnish a candidate for circuit judge in the coming election. The gentleman who has aspirations to serve the people of the First Judicial district in such capacity is Ben S. Adams, our present efficient commonwealth attorney. Mr. Adams has announced in the past that he would not again ask the people to elect him to a public office, and the declaration he made were in good faith, but during the past few weeks, as the time for the election draws near, Mr. Adams has been solicited by so many good friends and substantial citizens of the district that he has almost decided to withdraw his former declaration and enter the race for the circuit judgeship. Mr. Adams was county attorney for Carlisle county for several years, a position he filled with honor and credit. A little more than five years ago the people of this judicial district elected him to the position of commonwealth attorney and his record as such has been so favorable that he is receiving the most flattering solicitation to enter the race for circuit judge. — Carlisle County News.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The holiday season is now past and we rejoice in all the kind words and expressions of good will. We have started on another cycle of life and must gird ourselves for new victories and triumphs. We must progress in achievement as well as time. If we have grown in the past year we are stronger. If we are stronger we can attempt and achieve more. If we achieve more then 1921 will be the happiest and most successful period of our lives.

Bible school at 9:45 Sunday morning. Be sure and wind the clock and set it by the regulator.

Communion at 10:45 followed by the morning sermon on the subject: "Some Broad New Discoveries." We are sure this will be especially helpful to high school students and interesting to all.

Night worship at 7 o'clock. Last Sunday we spoke of the consequences of transgressing God's law. Next Sunday night we wish to consider "Some Objections to the Bible Teaching on Eternal Punishment." A cordial welcome awaits you at all these services. Rev. E. L. Miley, Pastor.

SUNDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Caruthers entertained several of their friends last Sunday with a delightful dinner. Those present were Judge and Mrs. S. D. Stenbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jones, Mrs. Keithley, sister of Mrs. Caruthers, and son, Paul Keithley, of Rathertford, Tenn., and Roger Burriss.

Hugh Swayne left Monday afternoon for Nashville, where he is attending the Wallace University school.

Jim D. Pickett left Wednesday for Indianapolis, where he has accepted a position.

The Proper Place.

Six-year-old Paul was misbehaving in the school ranks when his nine-year-old sister from her place in the next row happened to notice him. Immediately she walked from her place to him and administered a good shaking and a command for him to stand still.

"Why did you shake him, Virginia?" her teacher asked after they were in their room.

"Because if I hadn't shook him his teacher would," she retorted.

The questioning teacher smiled. "But I can't see why if he had to be shaken what difference it made whether you or his teacher did it."

"I can," Virginia was positive. "I wanted to keep it all in the family."

A Non-Literary Lady.

Garnett Bradford said at a dinner in Boston:

"It's no use complaining about the quality of American fiction, for this fiction is the kind the public wants."

"A novelist told me the other day that he once toured our city in a 'See-Ing Boston' automobile. The automobile rolled through the Back Bay district, and the guide pointed out the stately mansions of the aristocracy."

"Then a lady touched his arm."

"Say, guide," she said, "I've heard a lot about the great Oliver Wendell homes of Boston. Show us a few, will you?"

City of Tobolsk.

One of the principal Siberian cities is Tobolsk, the commercial center of the vast province of Tobolsk, which extends over an area of 500,000 square miles, a large portion of which, however, is practically uninhabited. The most prominent building in the city is the Kremlin, built in imitation of the great citadel in Moscow. This structure was erected by Swedish prisoners of war captured by Peter the Great at the battle of Poltava in 1709.

Martha Maddox, little daughter of F. M. Maddox and wife, has been very sick with diphtheria.

Clay Passed Joke Along.

Henry Clay made a speech in New York one time and among his hearers was Michael Walsh, afterward a congressman, but at the time an apprentice in a printing office. His fellow workers dared him to shake hands with Clay, whose rooms were directly opposite the shop where Walsh worked. Never taking a dare, the impulsive apprentice ran across the street and found the line of guests who were passing Clay and shaking his hand. Walsh had not stopped to wash his hands, and the result was that the great orator after shaking hands with the anti-sleeved young man found his palm sticky with printers' ink.

He looked at the mess for a moment with a grim smile slowly appearing on his face. Without a word of reproach he allowed the printer's boy to go on his way, but he took care that those waiting in line did not see what had happened to him. Many of those assembled wore white kid gloves, and all were dainty and clean of hand. Clay calmly continued to shake hands, and guest after guest departed with darts of ink on hand and glove. By the time the last one had gone Clay's hand was clean.

A nice line of canned and bottled goods at Bettersworth's.

HADLEY TO MEMPHIS.

George Hadley, who for the past several years has been connected with Barrett & Ledford's Furniture Store in this city, left the first of the year to accept a position with the Pledge-Wigley store of Memphis. In Memphis he is located just opposite the Union Hotel on South Main street. His many friends here are sorry to lose him as a citizen of the town, and we will always be glad to hear of George's success. Arch Bertwick has accepted the position made vacant by his change, and will after this greet his friends at Barrett & Ledford's with his customary joviality.

NEW MAN WITH HENRY & HENRY.

J. Dee Henry, of the firm of Henry & Henry has assumed the position of district manager for the state of Tennessee for the Fidelity-Phoenix Fire Insurance Company of New York, beginning January 1. He will continue to make his headquarters here, only being absent from the city about one week out of a month. His brother and the other member of the firm, A. W. Henry, will leave this week for New Orleans where he becomes state agent and adjuster of claims in the state of Louisiana for the Aetna Fire Insurance Company of Hartford.

During their absence in connection with their new positions their business will be in charge of John C. Sexton, formerly one of the publishers of The Courier. It looks good to see Johnny Henry could not have picked a better or more competent man to bestow their mantle upon.

CALLED TO BOWLING GREEN

Rev. W. F. Renneberg, rector of St. Paul's Church here, has received a call to become rector of Christ's Church in Bowling Green. He is not decided as to whether he will accept the church or remain in Hickman. We sincerely hope that he will decide to do the latter, as there is not a finer man in Hickman than he, and he numbers a host of friends in all the congregations of the city.

Master Jack Warren, of this city, spent Saturday night with his sister, Mrs. T. E. Ayres of Waverly, Tenn., and returned home Sunday night.

FULTON COUNTY HERO BURIED

Funeral of Otis E. Pullen Held Sunday at Christian Church.

The funeral of Private Otis E. Pullen was held at the Christian Church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery. The church was packed to overflowing and many of people gathered to pay tributes of respect to the memory of one of the world's heroes who met death fighting on the fields of France for the liberty and safety of humanity's ideals. Otis E. Pullen was born July 5, 1889, and went to France with the A. E. F. in May, 1918. He was killed by German shells on August 18, 1918, at Albert, France, and buried on the field. His mother, Mrs. Mollie Pullen, requested that his body be sent home and on December 15, received a telegram that it would arrive in New York on that date, and would be forwarded as soon as arrangements could be made. It arrived at two o'clock Saturday, Jan. 1, and remained at his mother's home until two o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Many friends called to show their sympathy and Auburn Township Post No. 57, American Legion, in charge of Captain Stach, offered every possible service and took charge of the remains attending the funeral in a body.

The church was appropriately decorated with flags of America, France and England. As the casket was brought in followed by the friends and Legion, the strains of "O Columbia The Gem of the Ocean" were played. All stood at attention while "The Star Spangled Banner" was played.

The choir sang, "Asleep in Jesus" which was followed by scripture reading and prayer by Dr. H. B. Johnston. After the singing of "It Is Well With My Soul", Rev. E. L. Miller introduced Tan Pullen, of Paris, Ky., an old Confederate soldier, an uncle of deceased, who gave a very touching account of some of his experiences through the Civil War, spoke most kindly of the services of his nephew and appealed to those present to look forward to that great reunion beyond the battles and wars of earth. Very few men could have made a talk like it under the circumstances. The pastor then delivered a short address, displaying a picture of the grave in France, and the New Testament found in Mr. Pullen's pocket when he was killed. He read from the second chapter of Romans, where he found a book mark, marking the place where the soldier had been reading, read his signed confession of faith in Christ on the flyleaf, read expressions of confidence and praises of the faithful services of the fallen hero as written by officers of the U. S. Army and the allied governments, and referred to the floral tributes and the great crowd of people all as being sufficient to give the mother, relatives and friends homelike reasons for gratitude and confidence in such an hour and inspire all to live heroic and patriotic lives in times of peace.

This has been written the final chapter of another fallen hero who gave his all to check the powers of evil which tried contrary to the laws of God to conquer the world.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS.

The Hickman Board of Education met Monday night, according to the new state law (first Monday night in January), and drew lots to decide which members should hold office for two, and which for four years. H. L. Amborg, C. B. Travis and E. T. Randle were chosen as the four year officers, and T. Sweeney, C. H. Moore and H. C. Holm drew the two year terms. H. C. Holm was elected chairman, H. L. Amborg, vice-chairman and E. T. Randle, secretary.

MILLET—THAMAN.

AL THOMAS FOR SHERIFF

Popular Deputy Wants to Serve People in Important Office.

This week we are placing before the people of Fulton County the name of Al Thomas, who announces for the office of Sheriff, subject to the action of the Democratic voters on Saturday August 6th.

His announcement will occasion no surprise to our friends and readers as it has been known for some time that he would be a candidate and his friends have urged him to make his formal announcement as soon as possible. He has been working for the past 6 years as a deputy sheriff, 2 years under Kelley Haddock and under Sheriff Walker since his election and contributed no little to the successful conduct of their respective administrations. Mr. Thomas is well known throughout the county because of his close attention to the duties that have been placed on him. He has discharged every duty in a manner that has been acceptable to his superiors, and satisfying to the public.

Under trying circumstances he has shown himself a man of nerve and resource, level-headed and courageous. Through his connection in his present capacity he has familiarized himself with the duties of the office, and if elected he will prove to be competent and skilled in the duties from the very start. In this world's goods he is not rich, and his desire to serve the people in this important office arises from an honest and sincere desire to be of service to his fellowmen, and at the same time one that is well paid.

We bespeak for him a careful consideration of his claims and his fitness and qualifications for the office.

If he is elected, we are confident that he will measure up to every requirement and that he will make as good an officer as we have ever had.

On Friday evening Dec. 25th, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dadds entertained a host of young people with a waltz party at the Dadds Club room in honor of their daughter, Miss Anna B. Dadds, who was home from school spending the Christmas holidays. The room was beautifully decorated with fairy lights, pine and holly. Following the waltz party at 9:30 dancing was an event for the remainder of the evening, at the conclusion of which a delicious salad course and coffee were served.

At the hour of 12:00 the young people featured the old year out and the new year in with waltzes, cotillions, etc. The guests included: Misses Anna Dadds, Myra Farris, Ruth Barrett, Dorothy Moore, Mary Stone, Jane Binford, Mabel Barrett, Helen Walker, Louise Choate, Martha Barrett, Elizabeth Ellison, Helen Tullis, Martha Emily Dadds, Mollie Hamby, Leone Day, Allie Dadds, Irene Farris, and Mary Marshall. JIM ROPER SHOT BY BOB HENDRICKS

Died in Dyersburg From Wound Inflicted Last Wednesday.

Jim Roper, of near Dorena, Mo., just across the river from Hickman, died at 11:30 Friday night at the hospital in Dyersburg, from wounds inflicted Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock by Bob Hendricks.

According to Roper, the fifteen-year-old son of Roper, the trouble began when Roper questioned Hendricks, who was a tenant on his farm, about the gathering and storing of some corn which had been raised by Hendricks on shares. The boy says that in exchange of words, Hendricks swore at Roper, who struck at him, and that Hendricks shot his father when the latter turned to speak to his son. The gun used was a .38 calibre, the bullet entering one side of the abdomen and stopping on the other side. The injured man then turned and walked to his home, while the boy went after the horse and wagon, which had run away, and then he came to Hickman after medical assistance.

Dr. C. W. Curllin was called to the bedside of Mr. Roper, and after determining the extent of the injuries, decided to remove him to the hospital at Dyersburg, where he was operated on Thursday night, and where he died Friday night.

The body was brought to Hickman Saturday afternoon, and the funeral was held at the residence of Curry Fields Sunday morning, after which interment was had at the city cemetery, the Rev. V. E. Banks, pastor of the West Hickman Methodist Church, having charge of the services.

The deceased was 46 years of age. He was born in Hickman County and was married to Mrs. Bessie Ginter who survives him. He lived for twelve years on Gaudler Johnson's farm in the lower bottom, known as the J. P. Roper place. Three years ago he bought 120 acres from S. L. Dodds across the river near Dorena and had lived there until his death. He is survived by his wife, his mother, Mrs. Jane Roper of Moscow, one son, Reese, four daughters, Pauline, 11 years of age; Florence, 9; Lucille, 6; and Mary, 2; two brothers, Aubrey, of Moscow, and George, of Iowa, and two sisters Mrs. Bob Baker and Mrs. Jim Rollin, both of Moscow. J. B. Bryant, of Mississippi County, Mo., was appointed administrator of the estate Monday.

It is reported that Hendricks went to Charleston, Mo., Tuesday and surrendered himself to the authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry Cook have returned from the Crutcheffs' family, where they spent the holidays with her parents.

RUSSELL AT F. & M. BANK.

J. H. Russell is now with the Farmers & Merchants Bank, having been secured by the bank to fill the place of Henry, whose resignation took effect the first of the year. Mr. Russell was connected with the bank for a great many years until the spring of 1917, when ill health caused by the confinement necessitated a change but since that time he is greatly improved and his many friends will be glad to greet him at his old place. The Farmers & Merchants Bank was unfortunate in losing the service of Mr. Henry, but a better man to fill his position could not have been found than Mr. Russell.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. J. A. STUBBS.

The funeral of Mrs. Beulah Stubbs, wife of J. A. Stubbs, was conducted at the family residence on Troy Road, Thursday morning at ten o'clock. Dr. H. B. Johnston, pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city, officiating.

Mrs. Stubbs, who had been ill for over two months, died at seven o'clock Tuesday night, Dec. 28, in her seventy-fifth year. Her condition at first was not thought serious and she continued to improve for a time, but a sudden relapse from which she never recovered, led her back to bed. Her death was the result of a complication of diseases together with the infirmities of old age.

Mrs. Stubbs was a native of West Tennessee but removed to Hickman at an early age together with her father, William King, and her brothers and sisters. She was married Jan. 22, 1875, to J. A. Stubbs, who survives her and has lived in Hickman since that time.

She is also survived by three children, one son, Dr. J. C. Stubbs, and two daughters, Mrs. J. L. Thorton and Mrs. I. T. Baker. Three sisters, Mrs. Joanna Baker, Mrs. R. H. Kirtz and Mrs. C. I. Hagan. Besides these she leaves a host of grandchildren, nieces and nephews to mourn her loss.

She had been a devoted member of the Methodist Church and was at all times a devoted wife and mother. She leaves a multitude of friends who shed a distinct loss at her death. For her unselfish and generous ways with her friends and neighbors.

The Courier extends the sincerest sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends for their many kindnesses during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, and for the many beautiful floral tributes to her memory.

We are pleased to announce to the public that on January 1st, Mr. J. C. Sexton became connected with our agency. Any business entrusted to his care will receive the same careful attention as has characterized this agency in the past.

We greatly appreciate the liberal patronage that the Insuring public has given us in the past, and we trust that we may be of more service to you in the future. With your help we have grown from an agency writing $196.00 in premiums in 1914 to $17,971.92 of the $30,736.49 written in Hickman in 1919. The year 1920 being our banner year with total premium of over $30,000.00.

We represent as General Agents for the State of Kentucky the Peninsular Fire Insurance Co., the United States Casualty Co. and the Prudential Life Insurance Co., all losses will be adjusted and paid from this office.

The Prudential being the only Company that is to day making Farm Loans in this County, place your business with a company that will help you when you need help.

Our Policy holders have the pleasure of knowing that their business is being placed by men that know how, in companies that are among the leaders of the world, that they are enjoying the most liberal forms, lowest rates and in case of loss, their interest will be fully taken care of.

Illinois Central Reviews Transportation Conditions of 1920

The railways of the United States have just emerged from a year of unprecedented difficulties. With a transportation plant unequal to the demands placed upon it, they made a record of which railway men are justly proud, and in which forward-looking citizens generally may well feel a pride.

Commercial requirements were the greatest in history. Because of a strike at the coal mines in November and December, 1919, at the beginning of 1920 the country was 15,000,000 tons short of its normal supply of coal. Other commodities in great quantities also awaited shipment. A flood of traffic was turned upon the railways.

The railways had suffered from the war. New equipment had not been purchased in sufficient quantities. Old equipment had not been adequately maintained. Cars had been scattered broadcast over the country. The buildings of yards and sidings and new mileage had been interrupted. Adequate rates had not been assured. Wages, material costs and taxes had mounted to new levels. A switchmen's strike, tying up terminal freight movements, occurred in April and made its lingering effects felt throughout the early summer.

Facing the great demands for transportation, with many obstacles against them, the railroads accomplished a task that seems almost miraculous. The danger of a coal famine was averted. Necessary traffic was moved. A steadily increasing record of efficiency was built up, week by week and month by month, exceeding all previous records of railway history. The peak of the car shortage was passed early in September. Late in November a car surplus actually existed. The supply of transportation now exceeds the demand for the first time in five years.

Many predict a business revival early in 1921, an optimism that seems altogether justified. If the predicted business revival materializes, it will make a heavy demand upon the railways. We believe the railways will be able to move a larger business than they moved during the record-breaking past year. New equipment will be in service and old equipment will be in better condition. Railway workers are developing the old spirit of loyalty and efficiency, conceived upon a new foundation of public service. More adequate rates have been granted. The public is taking a more intelligent interest in railway affairs. Lessons in co-operation have been learned.

It is well, however, for those who will make heavy demands upon traffic during the year to anticipate those demands as early as possible, now that the railways are in a position to handle all traffic offered them. Material which can be transported now in anticipation of later demands should be transported, in order to distribute the traffic burden more evenly.

We of the Illinois Central System are proud to have shared in the 1920 record of the railways of the country. Our best efforts will now be put forth in helping to make the record of the railways for 1921 even more creditable than was the record of 1920.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

President, Illinois Central Railroad Company.

"The Watch Night" service at the First Methodist Church was well attended. Over one hundred present and a splendid program was rendered. Several talks by ladies and gentlemen. W. A. Johnston presided and Miss Carrie Mule held assisted by the young people of the church furnished an excellent lunch. The service was concluded by the pastor, Rev. H. B. Johnston, speaking from the text "I'll give my angel to go with thee and keep thee in the way thou shouldest go and bring thee unto the place prepared," and prayer. It was a joyful time.

Frank Watson, Amarillo, Tex., writes to the pastor of the Methodist Church here that "over 650 were in Sunday School Jan. 3, Bro. Culpepper held a meeting here not long ago and did splendid work." Mr. Culpepper is to begin a meeting at the Methodist Church here Jan. 30th. The whole country is expected to attend.

$50,000 ROBBERY IN SPRINGFIELD

Young Ex-Sailor Killed While Trying To Escape After Ganglary.

A young man, aged about 25, and who was identified later as Robert Austin of Rochester, Tenn., recently discharged from the United States Navy, was slain today while trying to escape after robbing a bank in Springfield, Tenn., and slaying Lytle Dillard, a syndicate officer who tried to capture him.

The ex-sailor was a stranger to the bank, and Lytle Dillard, a member of the institution with a record for a year, R. F. Lytle, the cashier, went back to the vault to get the money. The young man followed him. In the vault the ex-sailor drew a .44 caliber automatic pistol and fired at the cashier, who was killed and wounded in the chest and arm.

Pursued by J. C. Karpis, vice president of the local Criminal Gang and others, the robber hurried out of the rear of the bank, leaving the cashier on the floor. The young man, who was armed, attempted to escape from the bank, but was shot by the cashier, who was killed and wounded in the chest and arm.

The man was shot in the chest and arm, and was killed. He was killed there by the cashier, who shot him with a Winchester rifle, after Austin had tried to escape.

The valuables taken from the bank vault were all recovered.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER

LO, POON INDIAN IS A MODERN FARMER

Chief Little Chief

Despite the wealth many Indians of the southwest are enjoying as a result of great oil finds on their land, the leading tribes have not lost the instinct for tilling the soil—refuting the old idea that the red men "did not care to work." There are thousands of Indian farmers in Oklahoma, Montana, Dakota, Kansas, Arizona and New Mexico. And they are even more willing than some white men to take up the use of modern implements: tractors, motor cultivators, etc. Pictures are of Chief Little Chief of the Cheyenne Indians, who is continually urging his tribe to work their farms and not sell or lease them. The harvesting picture is a Cheyenne Indian farmer cutting oats with a binder pulled by a mule.

The Red & Black Tobacco and Cigar Company, which is a modern and efficient concern, is now in the process of building a new factory in Peoria, Ill. The new factory will be a modern one, and will be equipped with the latest machinery.

FIELD IS FULL FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

Possibility of Five Starters in Race in This District.

There is a possibility that the race for circuit judge in this district will have five entries in the August, 1921, primary.

Attorneys W. B. Hester and Joe E. Warren, both of Mayfield, are practically assured starters, as is also Judge Elvis Stahr, the present county judge of Fulton county, who resides at Hickman.

A representative of the Messenger was in Ballard county a few days last week and this, and he learned that there is a strong possibility of Henry F. Turner of Wickliffe vying his eastern in the ring for the nomination for the circuit judgeship. Mr. Turner made the race five years ago for commonwealth attorney.

The Carlisle County News of this week says that Ben S. Adams, the present commonwealth attorney, is a likely starter in the race.

This gives Graves two candidates, Fulton county, Ballard and Carlisle one candidate each, if all of these mentioned as likely starters in the race enter the contest. —Mayfield Messenger.

Mrs. T. M. French and Miss Irene Paris delightfully entertained at bridge Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 5 at the home of the latter. Candy and punch were served during the games, and at the close a delicious salad course, mints and salted nuts were served by Misses Myra Paris and Mildred Goshier. Those who had the pleasure of being present were Mesdames B. R. Turpin, Milton Spauldin, D. M. Cheate, C. T. Bondurant, H. L. Bradley, Swayne Walker, Chester Barnes, Austin Voorhees, Mitchell Wright, E. J. Stahr, W. C. Reed, George Cook, A. R. Stone, C. L. Walker, Harvey Sanger, Guy Hale, A. W. Hale, Joe Engel, F. T. Miss A. W. Hendrix has returned home, after a visit to her sister at Cairo.

A Happy New Year to Every One

We sincerely hope that each and every one of you has had a most Merry Christmas, and on this, the beginning of a new year, we take this means of wishing you a most happy and prosperous New Year.

That 1921 may mean only the best in life to all is our heartfelt wish.

AID BOYS TO OWN PUREBREDS

Eighty Hampshire Gilts Distributed Among Club Members of Tipton County, Tennessee.

"A pig in a poke" generally signifies a bad bargain, but not to the members of the boys' club of Tipton county, Tennessee. These young business men are quite satisfied with the pigs they drew by lot one day last June at Covington, Tenn. Through the initiative of County Agent G. S. Hollingsworth, who has been entering in his efforts to perfect the pig club work, and with the assistance of the American Hampshire Breeders' association, each of the eight banks in Tipton county imported ten purebred Hampshire gilts from Illinois. Then the boy members of the pig club gathered in Covington to draw lots for their pigs.

The process is simple, but its effect upon impressionable boys is wholesome and far-reaching. The boy actually establishes a regular credit at his bank, a real business proposition wherein pigs replace the customary notes. In this case each member of the club was given a number which entitled him to the pig with the corresponding number among the 80 in the pen. Reports indicate that every boy seemed absolutely sure that he had drawn the one best Hampshire in the lot, though a neutral person who examined the 80 pigs asserted that there was really very little difference among all the animals. All weighed about 50 pounds, and all were purebred Hampshire gilts, beautifully marked in black and white and of excellent build and conformation.

Each boy agreed to follow certain approved instructions in feeding and caring for the gilt and promised to exhibit his selection at a contest to be given in the county next fall. In full filling his contract with his bank he will return two pigs from the first litter produced by his sow, in discharge of his "note" due the bank. The sow, the remaining pigs of her first litter and all the pigs of future litters become the property of the boy.

Economists argue that there is no good bargain—that one party or the other is always the loser—but it is hard to find that fault in the pig club boys' bargain. The banks get two pigs for one; the boys get a purebred sow and all her potential litters in return for the care and feed given the pig, and the county of Tipton is richer in one short year by two or three hundred purebred pigs. Uncle Sam and the county agent, who jointly form a sort of third party to the transaction, have the satisfaction of knowing that 80 farm boys have been given a financial interest in agriculture and a primary business education which will mean success in later years.

HOW TO KEEP HOGS HEALTHY

Among Other Things, Provide Animals With Sanitary Quarters and a Clean Wallow.

To keep swine healthy and thrifty, provide them with sanitary quarters and a clean wallow, in addition to proper food. But when external parasites affect hogs an effective remedy must be used if losses are to be avoided. Lice and mange mites are the two principal kinds of external parasites occurring among swine. The mites are particularly injurious in pigs and poorly nourished hogs. "Hog Lice and Hog Mange" is the title of a new farmers' bulletin recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, telling specifically how to identify the parasites and describing effective and economical remedies. Plans of hog wallows and dipping vats, together with directions for building them, are given. For information on this important subject, ask the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for Farmers' Bulletin No. 1085.

A CHAPTER ON RAISINS.

Though the price of raisins has risen, it is still a good thing to have a few in the kitchen. They are a good food for the children and a good food for the adults. They are a good food for the old and a good food for the young.

Raisin Puffs—Take two cups of sugar, one cup of butter, one cup of salt, one cup of baking soda, one cup of baking powder, one cup of baking soda, one cup of baking powder, one cup of baking soda, one cup of baking powder. Wash, dry and chop the raisins, add and mix well. Brush four custard cups with butter, put in the mixture and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with a lemon sauce.

Raisin Marmalade—Take two cups of seeded raisins, one cup of brown sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, one cup of water, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, two cups of strained apple sauce. Wash and dry the raisins, put through a meat chopper, add water and salt, and boil slowly for thirty minutes. Add lemon juice and apple sauce. Simmer thirty minutes or until thick. Put in jelly glasses and seal.

Raisins and Bananas—Take one cup of raisins, one cup of bread crumbs, four cups of bananas, one-half teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoons of sugar, and one tablespoonful of butter. Brush the casserole with butter, put half of the bananas in the bottom, cover with bread crumbs and then with raisins which have been soaked and thickened; the salt is to be added to the raisins. Cover with the remainder of the bananas and sprinkle with sugar. Cover, put in a hot oven and bake twenty minutes; reduce the heat and leave twenty minutes longer. Serve hot.

Raisins stuffed with nuts make a nice confection. Take the large raisins, make a cut on one side, put in a blanched peanut and roll in powdered sugar.

Thedford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficacy of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver."

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities. Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's. E. B.

system in the United States could have been reached. The Farm Bureau has been the instrument that has made the original appropriation of $100,000,000 for the National Farm Bureau.

When Congress was considering the railroad bill and some other bills, the Farm Bureau was the only organization that was not a strike or a protest. It was the only organization that was not a strike or a protest. It was the only organization that was not a strike or a protest.

Still another illustration of how the Farm Bureau has been the instrument that has made the original appropriation of $100,000,000 for the National Farm Bureau.

Now this achievement would mean nothing to a farm boy farmer who might hear of it. Nor would it get a point of view of the farmer of every man in Oregon at all. But to the cotton farmer of the South it was of fundamental importance. In days of old this farm plan might have worked. But no more.

When the Farm Bureau discovered what had happened it took prompt action. Gray Silver wrote a letter to the chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Senate, telling him what had happened and how.

This letter was mimeographed and a copy placed on the desk of every member of Congress with the declaration that if that amendment went through without having been acted on by the regular committee in due course the nation would be told how it had been
